FORM 5 – NOTICE REVOKING POWER OF ATTORNEY

When you are the maker of a power of attorney (the donor) and want to cancel your power of attorney (POA) document, you must give written notice to certain people. Cancelling is called revoking. Read your POA to see if it tells you who to give notice in writing. If your POA does not say who you give the notice to, give notice to the attorney and any other backup attorneys named in the POA.

To: _____

Name of attorney

OR

To: _____

You were appointed as my attorney under my power of attorney dated

_____.

You are receiving this notice because I am cancelling my power of attorney and you are no longer authorized to act.

I ask that you give me all records and accounting that you kept while you acted as my attorney. Please do this within 30 days of this notice.

Dated at_____on _____.

_____

Signature

Donor's name: _____

©Copyright 2025 | legalinfo.org